Therefore, in one bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much neciminal virtue as will be found in several galzons of ordinary mixtures. The roots, etc., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemisi, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others. No desire for stimulants can be induced from their use; they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances have not but a beneficial effect.

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases with a some alcohole stimulant is required in connection with the Tone properties of the Bitters. Each notife of the Tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the Bitters is overzome, forming a proparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the fonic is 41.50 per bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price; but is not botter to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it, will most certainly be cheated.

I have used Hooffand's German Bitters and Tonic in my family during the past year, and can recommend them as an excellent tone, imparting tone and vigor to the system. Their use has been productive of decidedly beneficial effects.

WM. F. ROGERS. Hon. James M. Wood, ex-Mayor of Williamspor Pa.: I take great pleasure in recommending Hoof-and's German Tome to any one who may be af-flicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so early it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so weak as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic ef-rected a perfect cure.

it is not necessary to take a handful of these rills to produce the desired effect. Two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, stomach and Bowels, of all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching, than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, steaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from all the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

for all obsesses in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, those pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL. In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, and extreme Contiveness pr. Hoofmand's German Bitters, or Tonic, should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters, or Tonic, builds up the system. The Bitters, or Tonic, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, regulates the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

A man who married a buxom Irish girl, greatly to the horror of his mother and sister, made the following defence:
"If I married an American girl I must have an Irish girl to take care of her, and I cannot afford to support both of them."

serIt is said that when Brigham Young was asked the other day which son he had at West Point, the conundrum so staggered him, that he was obliged to refer to the family record to solve it "Do they miss me at home?" is not much sung in that family,

John Martin, of the Young Ireland party, who was tried and sentenced to death wenty-five years ago, and afterwards had his sentence commuted to transporta-tion for life, is now a member of parlia-ment; and thus the whirliging of time brings on its revenges.

The witty John Clark, the barrister, who was lame, overheard a lady re-mark to a friend "That's Mr. Clark, the lame lawyer." Mr. Clark, who was pas-sing along the street, turned round, and addressing the lady, said: "No, madam, I am a lame man, but not a lame lawyer."

The Carlyle (Ills.) Constitution of the 6th says: On Saturday night a dastardly wretch, having neither the fear of God, man nor the devil in his heart, entered the Catholic church at this place and stole a portion of the communion service, valued at about $100, and the contribution box, containing about $40, that had been col-lected for the poor.

A curious report is that received by the Unitarian Sunday School Society, at its Boston convention, from its "Ladies' Commission," appointed in 1865, to "inves-tigate juve sile literature," with a view to. the expurgation of Sunday school libraries Of 3,554 books examined these ladies found only 977 "fit to be read," and even these were divided into three classes—1st, books to which no exception is taken; 2d, books not fit for Unitarian children; 3d. books fit for teachers, but not fit for scholars.

AN EFFECTIVE TEMPERANCE MOVE. In a town in Ohio, not long ago, the women went in bands of two and three with their kniking and sewing into the dramshops of the place, and spent the whole day with their work, and talking politely upon various topics. Husbands and friends came in, saw how things looked,
and had not the courage to step to the bar and drink. This was kept up for several days, and the result was every shop in the place was closed.

HOW A WOMAN KEEPS A SECRET. It is an old quib upon women that a woman can not keep secrets; but the fact is they are the only part of humanity that can. A wife keeps a husband's secret incomparably better than he does her's. We calculate that there is one drunken wife to about four hundred and ninety-nine drunken husbands. In gambling licentiousness, lying, cheating, hypocrisy convetousness there is pretty near the same proportion. Yet of the four hundred and ninety-nine wives, four hundred conceal, cover up, silently endure four hundred and ninety-nine wives, four hundred conceal, cover up, silently endure the terrible secret; while the one husband mourns over his wife's frailty in the study of his pastor, and to the ear of his friend, and probably complains of it to a court of law. It is the same with brother and sister. The secrets a woman talks about are the kind that are unimportant and most agreeable to her. But of serious secrets she is as reticent as the grave. That is our observation, and in our vari-That is our observation, and in our various relation of physician, lawyer, and unordained minister, we have had opportunities for a great deal of observation.

(From the Louisville Courie -Journal July 14.) Lawrence Minor, a colored porter on the steamer Gen. Lytle, of the Louisville and Cincinnati mail-line, was a few days since tendered one of the chairs in days since tendered one of the chairs in Alcorn University, in the State of Mississippi, and has accepted the position. Alcorn University was founded a year of two since by the State Legislature, and an endowment fund of $50,000 per annum was apprepriated for its support. This annual income is to be paid for five years, after which it is expected that the University, will be self-sustaining. A letter 'states that the University has been leasted in Adams county, Mississippi, near Natchez, and will be opened for the reception of students, the first of October next. The institution is, we believe, to be devoted exclusively to colored pupils. Yesterday a reporter from the Courier-Journal "interviewed" Prof. Minor as to his past life and intentions in the future. He was born on "Linwood" plantation, in Ascension parish, Louisians. His tion, in Ascension parish, Louisiana. He left provision in his will, however, manumiting the children and their mother, and providing for the further education of the former. In the year 1846 Lawrence, entered the class of '50 in Oberlin College Ohio, where he is said to have been distinguished for proficiency. During his senior year, however, a slight difficulty occurred between himself and one of the tutors, which was brought to the attention of the faculty. The option was given, him either to apologize or be dissmissed but, with all the blood of his father boiling in his veins with the real or fancied ing in his veins with the real or fancied injuries done him, he embraced the latter

In 1850 he went to New Orleans, and taught school for four years or more. He then married, and, coming north, went on the river as porter on one of the steamers of the Louisville and Henderson mail-line, where he remained until taking a similar position on the mail-line between this city and Cincinnati. In personal appearance, Minor is a strikingly handsome man for one of his color. He is a bright mulatto, with the features peculiar to his race but slightly developed. He is very tall, rather stout, and dignified in demeanor. His conversation is fluent and pleasant, discussing results any subject you may incussing readily any subject you may in-troduce. He has the reputation of being quite a remarkable man, and is perhaps as well known upon the river from Cin-cinnati to Henderson as almost any man above or below him in position.
